

INTERNATIONAL LABOUR OFFICE

NOTE VERBALE

Ref.: ILO/RELOFF/18-03-2024/7

Information regarding the selection process of the Independent Oversight Advisory Committee

The International Labour Office presents its compliments to Member States of the International Labour Organization (ILO) and has the honour to provide them with important information regarding the Independent Oversight Advisory Committee (IOAC).

The terms of reference of the IOAC require that its members be appointed by the Governing Body following a triennial tripartite selection process. This process involves the publication of a call for expressions of interest and the engagement of an external consultant, specialized in the recruitment for senior positions, to screen all applications, interview candidates deemed suitable, and prepare a shortlist of the most suitable candidates for the consideration of the selection panel comprised of Governing Body members.

The Office has now launched the advertisement for new members of the IOAC whose three-year term will start as from 1 January 2025.

A “call for candidates” has been posted on the ILO public website and will remain available for one month. Further dissemination of the advertisement will be done through the ILO’s social media accounts on LinkedIn and X (formally Twitter), and through ACTRAV and ACT/EMP as well as ILO offices in the field, in order to ensure wide outreach to ILO constituents and the communities closely following the ILO’s work.

Member States may wish to circulate this information to suitably qualified and experienced individuals, who should submit their letters of interest, together with a recent curriculum vitae, electronically to ioac@ilo.org by 19 April 2024.

Further information about the IOAC, including the terms of reference, is available on the dedicated webpage of the Committee.

The International Labour Office avails itself of this opportunity to renew to the Member States of the ILO the assurances of its highest consideration.
